DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smits et al. (US 5,287,247).

Smits et al. disclose an apparatus (Figures 4A, 4C, 4D, 5B) comprising an integrated circuit (IC) die (422); a central button (430) characterized as comprising a stack of at least three metal layers of a same material (a top layer, a middle layer and a bottom layer) on a back surface of the IC die; a heat spreader (424) conductively coupled to the metal layer; and a bias signal source coupled to the heat spreader to supply a bias signal to the IC die via the metal layer. Claimed structure does not require the three metal layers formed of different materials. Therefore, these three metal layers could be formed of same material that together they form an integral metal part on a back surface of the IC die. Thus, a stack of three metal layers of the same material is not patentable distinguished from the central button (430) of Smits et al. Also, it has been held that constructing a formerly integral structure in various elements involve only routine skill in the art. Nerwin v. Erlichman, 168 USPQ 177, 179.

Regarding claim 6, a wire (442) is coupled to the heat spreader to provide the bias signal from the signal source.

Regarding claim 7, a package substrate (motherboard 402) on which the IC die is mounted, the package substrate (motherboard) inherently including a conductive path to provide the bias signal to the heat spreader (424).

Regarding claim 8, the IC die includes a microprocessor (CPU 104).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 14, 20 and 25-36 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
